Rep. Jenkins of Ohio Hits
Dewey's Endorsement of Halleck; Free
Speech Cited

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The first serious rift in Republican ranks since the party won the congressional elections broke into the open today with a demand that presidential candidates keep hands off the House leadership contest.

Rep. Thomas Jenkins of Ohio objected in a formal statement to "attempts by outsiders to dominate the American congress."

He leveled his remarks primarily at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's endorsement of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana for the House floor leadership. But he said they apply as well to "any presidential aspirants—Senator Taft or Senator Bricker, too, although I don't think they'd try it."

Jenkins is one of three announced candidates for the leadership position to be vacated by Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts when he becomes speaker of the House on January 3.

The others are Halleck and Rep. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, neither of whom was in Washington when Jenkins let loose his blast at the New York governor last night.

Interviews with many who received the maximum bonus of $3,500 indicated that much of the money would be used to pay debts, increase savings and buy bonds.

The 53-year-old Reese, who was penniless in 1932 when he began building an abandoned pottery into a $3,000,000 plant explained his gifts thus:

"I've got all the money I need and my ambition is to keep my employees the highest paid pottery workers in the world."

Along with the bonus, he announced a 20-cent-an-hour increase in wages, with a $1 hourly minimum for unskilled workers.

To 88 men and women who had been with his pottery for at least 10 of its 14-year existence, Reese gave bonuses of $3,500. The average bonus was $852.50, and the smallest, $10 for new employees.

The bonus money was accumulated during the war years when pay increases were restricted.

Most of the 10-year employees glanced at the checks and were dazed. Some walked away with rubbery legs, but recovered and ran back to thank Reese and shake his hand.

Reese, a machine gunner in World War I, had another surprise for his community—a new home for the American Legion, which had been raising funds for that purpose.

De Gasperi Accepts Bid

Rome, Dec. 12 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi has accepted an invitation of the U. S. government to visit the United States, a government communiqué said today, and will leave Rome January 3.

The communiqué said he would talk with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and other American officials on "questions of mutual interest." Such problems included: the Italian food supply, the financial situation, and the Italian peace treaty.

Senate Attorneys Ask Right
To File Contempt Charges

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Attorneys for the Senate War Investigating Committee said today they have asked for authority to file contempt charges against Edward P. Terry, former secretary of Senator Bibb (D-Miss.).

The action is based on Terry's refusal to tell the committee what became of $15,000 which he said a New Yorker gave him to use against Bibb in the Mississippi election this year.

Committee counsel must obtain permission of President Pro Tem McKellar (D-Tenn.) and then pass the contempt complaint along to the federal district attorney here for presentation to the grand jury.

Penalties for contempt of the Senate range up to a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

All Travel Halted
By Snow, Fog, Rain
In Several Areas

(By The Associated Press)

Snow, rain and fog halted air travel and slowed rail and highway transportation in many sections of the east, south and middle west today.

There were heavy falls of snow in northern New York state and parts of New England and freezing rains in other areas as a band of precipitation extended westward from the Atlantic coast to southern Wisconsin. Temperatures in many areas dropped to below freezing but no sub-zero readings were reported by federal forecasters. There was no new cold wave predicted for any section of the country.

Snowfalls were general throughout New York state, ranging from four to eight inches in the northern section and two inches in the New York city metropolitan area. The snow turned to sleet and rain in New York, snarling traffic and resulting in two deaths.

Rain was forecast today.

At LaGuardia Field in New York 113 airplane flights were canceled last night and numerous extra trips scheduled to handle the holiday travel were called off. Some trains into the metropolis were as much as two and a half hours late.

All air travel out of Boston was halted as the first light snow of the season fell in parts of southern New England. Federal forecasters reported moderate to heavy falls in parts of Maine and New Hampshire.

Snow and freezing rains extended westward from the east coast through Ohio into lower

Flight Are Canceled

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Continued bad weather crippled domestic and overseas plane travel out of New York today with the cancellation of 230 flights in and out of LaGuardia Field affecting more than 5,000 passengers. A total of 113 canceled flights at LaGuardia yesterday disrupted airline plans for extra sections to accommodate holiday travelers.

Snow, accompanied by poor ceiling and visibility, was followed by freezing conditions.

Easy for Truman, He Says

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Senators Tydings (D-Md.) and Hatch (D-N.M.) predicted in separate interviews today that President Truman will be reelected in 1948 without serious opposition. Further, Tydings told a reporter, Mr. Truman has gained such strength in the congressional elections that "from now on it's going to be a horse race."

A woman who identified herself as Mrs. Terry said he is ill in his apartment here, under doctor's orders.

612 Japs Are Hurt in Upheaval

Fire Also Ravages Some Areas; Quake May Be
World's Worst, Is Report

Houses Flooded

Thousands of Homes
Are Flooded; Ships
Destroyed.

Tokyo, Dec. 21 (AP)—A violent earthquake—possibly the world's heaviest—and the severe tidal wave it erupted off Wakayama peninsula today wreaked death and destruction over 15,000 square miles of southern Japan.

U. S. army and Japanese sources released these fragmentary reports:

500 Japanese dead,
612 Japanese injured.
42 Japanese and one British occupation soldier missing.
4,500 homes destroyed.
9,044 houses heavily damaged.
14,000 dwellings flooded.

500 fishing vessels destroyed.
An early estimate that probably 1,000 Japanese were killed—based on a report that 200 families at Kochi were "wiped out"—was disregarded later as army and Japanese sources compiled their reports of known casualties.

Kushimoto, a fishing town of 10,000 on the southern tip of Wakayama peninsula—at the southeastern tip of Honshu—was reportedly washed away by seven foot waves.

Shingu Hit by Fire

Fire destroyed one third of Shingu on the east coast of Honshu, and U. S. army fliers said flames still were visible there this afternoon.

The quake was recorded at 4:20 a. m. (2:20 p. m. Friday, E.S.T.) about one-half hour.

Contrasted to the county performance of clearing the highways, the city demonstration of snow removal, or lack of it, stood out like a terrible piece of work today.

Damage extended from the northern coast of Kyushu through Shikoku and north to Shizuoka on Honshu. Kyodo News Agency said the howled area extended 340 miles at its longest and 60 miles wide.

Osaka, Japan's second largest city, reported 14 killed, heavy property damage and water three feet deep in some sections.

The famous cities of Kyoto and Nara, both former Japanese capitals near Osaka, appeared to have escaped any but minor damage. Both escaped bomb damage during the war.

Has Five Days Food

The U. S. Military Government said Osaka has five days food rations for 50,000 people. Large quantities of imported grain recently were released to Japanese at Kobe. Authorities said they considered the food situation good at January 1.

However, U. S. military officials said it may be necessary to supply stricken areas on the Wakayama peninsula by boat because of communications disruptions.

Although concern was expressed over the situation in southern Shikoku Island, army officers said no outside help would be needed.

American and British occupation forces presumably escaped with only one casualty—one unidentified British soldier missing from Mikko—although the British were in the center of the stricken area. British headquarters at Kure, 170 miles west of Osaka, was damaged.

Wave Strikes Coast

The seven foot tidal wave which inundated the southwestern coast of Wakayama peninsula and struck heavily at the southern coast of Shikoku was reported to have caused the major damage.

Railroads and communications were snared. Electric, telephone, telegraph and railroad lines, particularly on the northern shores of the inland Sea, were cut in many places. Numerous communities were isolated.

The first shock was reported at 4:20 a. m. (2:20 p. m. Friday, Eastern Standard Time). Seismographs as far away as London were unable to record the largest waves. Fordham's observer said the tremors were "as severe as they come."

The epicenter appeared to be about 150 miles southwest of Osaka and within 15 minutes after the first shock the tidal wave struck.

The Welfare Ministry announced it was speeding relief activities through the Japanese Red Cross. Survey teams were sent to the area.

Eugene Talmadge
Dies in Atlanta;
Arnall May Stay

Constitution of Georgia

Provides Governor Is to Remain Until
Successor Chosen

EUGENE TALMADGE

Atlanta, Dec. 21 (AP)—Eugene Talmadge, who four times was elected governor of Georgia, died today less than a month before his scheduled fourth inauguration.

The 62-year-old champion of white supremacy succumbed quietly at Piedmont Hospital where he had lain in a coma since last night.

His death left in doubt the successor to the governorship from which youthful Ellis Arnall ousted him four years ago. Unofficial legal sources said however that Arnall, who was prevented from seeking a second term under a new state constitution, might remain in office at least until the next general election two years hence.

There is no precedent in the state, but the constitution provides the governor shall remain in office until his successor is qualified and elected. The legislature which meets in January formally elects the governor.

Talmadge's death was announced by a physician who stepped from the governor-elect's room and announced simply:

"He died at seven o'clock."

Talmadge first was stricken with a stomach hemorrhage in Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 4, and twice he was pronounced better and dismissed from the hospital. He entered the hospital for the last time Nov. 29, and had been improving until last Sunday when he suffered a relapse.

Red Liver Inflammation

Two days ago his physicians said he was suffering with an acute inflammation of the liver cells possibly caused by the administration of plasma and pronounced his condition critical. He had received much blood by transfusion since the first hemorrhages.

Members of the Talmadge family, including his wife, son and

Military Victory Claimed
For French in Indo-China

Paris, Dec. 21 (AP)—Initial military victory over Indochinese Nationalists was claimed today for France, facing a colonial crisis less than a week after formation of a new interim Socialist French government.

The semi-official French press agency said French armored troops after all-night street fighting held full possession of Hanoi, capital of French Indochina and of the young Viet-Nam republic, and were mopping up isolated Viet-Nam bands.

French forces were reported to have been in control since yesterday morning of the municipal theatre, seat of the republic's legislative assembly, and the palace of republican President Ho Chi Minh, said to have fled Thursday with his defense minister, Vo Nguyen Giap, and others.

Gen. Louis Morliere, French

commander in Tonkin state, of which Hanoi is the center, proclaimed martial law yesterday.

Ho Chi Minh was reported to have fled to the mountains of Laos.

PAPER CURRENCY

What shall it profit a nation to win a fighting war and then lose a financial war? Every nation emerging from this last war must face the danger in some degree. Fortunately Uncle Sam is in fair shape so far.

The name of the monetary danger is a devil called inflation. Most of the nations are already in his toils, and the peril tends to grow in countries which neglect or are unable to control the printed output.

"Paper money," properly controlled and backed by enough hard money, is all right in itself. We talk of money mostly in terms of silver and gold. We reckon it by weight, purity and national prestige, and are reassured by realizing that there is only about so much of the paper token stuff in banks and circulation.

Our currency is the soundest in the world, and we have no reason to worry about it. But wild use of such money in many countries is likely to be one of the world's big troubles for a while.

FEWER GERMANS

The German problem may eventually solve itself by the partial disappearance of the Germans. By 1946, according to a Frankfurt professor, Heinz Sauermann, there will be only 35,000,000 Germans in the pre-war German area instead of 70,000,000. Causes of the decrease are war deaths, collapse of German economy, and the 3,000,000 German prisoners still held in Russia.

Part of this decrease would have come without the war. The population gains of the past were leveling off before 1939. All the Nazi drive for more births did no more than slow up the trend. American calculators figure that population increases will stop entirely in the United States by 1980 at the latest. But there's certainly no sign of it at present.

BOOKS AT CHRISTMAS

What could be a more acceptable Christmas gift than a good book? Nothing quite so much carries the personality and esteem of the giver as a book which he himself likes. A personal inscription on the title page, with "Christmas 1946" added, brings recipient and sender in close communion, and becomes a lasting milestone of friendship after the volume takes its place on the library shelves.

"He'll stand without hitching." This phrase, dating back to the days of horse-drawn vehicles, is still used by politicians to describe an office-holder who can be trusted to do what he is told. It is a perfect description of the kind of a man whom Americans do not want for president.

A great many of the members of the coming Congress have pledged themselves to early income tax reduction. That, if it is done, will come as a great relief to a tax-weary country. But it obviously cannot be done so long as we stagger along under a forty billion annual national budget in a time of peace and record employment. The inescapable prelude to tax reduction is a very sharp and drastic reduction in Federal spending.

No one would accuse Secretary Byrnes of having a soft job.

Inspect your Christmas tree lights for flaws, to keep your home happy for Santa Claus.

Americans usually think themselves quite as smart as people of other nations, if not smarter. Why then are so many convinced that our diplomats are no match for those of other countries?

HUGE FIRE TOLL

Some facts issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which is conducting the most aggressive campaign in its history to make America conscious of the fire menace show that one out of every hundred homes is destroyed or damaged by fire each year. The daily total of theatre, hotel and restaurant fires run to 78. And above all, fire destroys between ten and eleven thousand lives annually.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

NEWSPRINT FOR AMERICA

In considering the cartelization of trade since the end of the war, newsprint, a commodity so essential for the dissemination of information, is a major item.

Here are a few indisputable facts:

The United States is dependent for its newsprint principally upon Canada, which, for 1946, operating at total capacity, will, exclusive of Newfoundland, produce about 4,200,000 tons. Of this amount, roughly 3,400,000 tons will have been shipped to the United States; 250,000 tons will have been consumed in Canada; and about 550,000 tons will go to the rest of the world, including England.

This newsprint is made from wood and the 90 per cent or over of the forests of Canada are government-owned (by the Crown, as they say) and is assigned to paper mills under Crown leases which run indefinitely, although the license to cut is of annual duration and can be withheld by provincial governments.

The paper mills pay ground rent to the provincial governments and they also pay a stumpage fee for wood cut. These fees may be increased by the provincial governments, which may also decrease the amount to be cut. Premier Maurice L. Duplessis of Quebec, for instance, has already indicated that his province receives insufficient revenues from its forests.

In spite of the newsprint shortage the world over, limitations are being placed upon the growth of the newsprint industry, the object being, of course, two-fold: 1.) to conserve the forests; 2.) to keep the price up. And one of the principal weapons in this situation is the absolute rejection of newspaper proprietors as owners of newsprint mills. Prime Minister Duplessis explains that from many angles, it comes down to this:

"It meant also interference with . . . the fact that shipment of newsprint to the United States stabilized Canadian funds in the United States, for it was not a decree of Ottawa which could establish the value of Canadian money in the United States, but only excess of exports."

In a word, newsprint is used to maintain as favorable a trade balance for Canada as possible and it is done by keeping the price up rather than increasing production. He said further:

"We have decided . . . not to give cutting rights to those who have no mills, who have no industry nor any plan showing in a convincing manner that the limits would be used for benefit of the province. The position is that we have still the limits necessary to maintain the industry if we take draconian measures to keep what belongs to the province for the benefit of the future of the province."

In another statement he said:

"I have offers from three powerful financial syndicates who wish to build pulp and paper mills in the Province of Quebec which would entail $35 million in investments. We will not accept their proposals because at present, except perhaps in the timberland area in the north, there are enough of these mills in Quebec. I am not in favor of temporary prosperity based on permanent disaster. The folly of overproduction which was made in the things will not be repeated."

But there can be no such thing in economics as "the folly of overproduction." There can be no limit to production. The fault usually lies in underdistribution due to stupid mercantilistic policies. The folly actually lies in not meeting the demands by adequate supplies at reasonable prices. The United States is paper starved. If Canada does not soon enough change her policies, other means will be found to produce paper, even by the development of the American industry. Swedish and Finnish mills may not be out of the market forever. Canadian newsprint was $40 a ton in 1935 and is now $84 a ton—and yet the demand far exceeds the supply.

The United States is not likely to reduce its newsprint consumption even should an economic recession occur, because the present usage is on a starvation basis, the smaller papers suffering most from the shortage and the extraordinary high price. In fact, some smaller papers are reduced almost to extinction. This condition challenges American ingenuity and will, of course, be met in time. The United States will not continue to be a dependent country for a vital supply.

GOOD FOOD BUILDS RESISTANCE

When the sanitarium for those suffering with tuberculosis first started, the main treatment was good food, fresh air and plenty of rest. For the last few years, while fresh air and good food are still prescribed, the main treatment has been rest. At first rest in bed was prescribed, months and sometimes years, but latterly rest is being obtained by preventing the damaged lung from moving by the use of gas or air pumped against it, or by removing the ribs which raised the lung and allowed air to go in or by cutting the nerve which controlled breathing into the lung.

It is only too true that these various methods of resting the tuberculous lung have restored many cases but it is true also that good food is still an important factor. In former days of treatment the patient drank a great amount of milk and gained considerable weight much of which he lost when he returned home because most of his gained weight was fat and readily dissolved once he was home or started to do even light work. To overcome this, patients are usually required to be on their feet and do a number of hours of light work before leaving the sanitarium.

In addition to doing light work or exercise and getting plenty of rest the food intake is now increased—more milk, more eggs and plenty of minerals and vitamins—A, B, C, D and more Vitamin K to enrich the blood.

Modern authorities agree that the tubercular patient should be well nourished and should maintain body weight at a figure equal to or perhaps a few pounds above his calculated ideal weight, but not become fat."

As a patient with tuberculosis has a "fever" process going on in his system which burns up much food eaten he needs more food than others. Similarly in patients with an overactive thyroid gland.

The thought then, in any one who is undernourished and run down, is extra food. In addition to milk and eggs, orange or tomato juice, leafy vegetables, meat, especially liver, dairy foods and yeast are foods that help to counteract the ravages of not only tuberculosis but any ailment causing undernourishment.

County Plows Are Sent Out to Open All Highways

Bushnellville Gets 11 Inches; Southern Section 4 to 5 in Snowstorm

Ulster County Highway Department had its first snowstorm of the season to combat last night when snow varying from 4 to 5 inches in the southern portion of the county to about 11 inches at Bushnellville fell, making it necessary to send plows to clear the entire county road system.

This morning all roads had been plowed and the work of clearing shoulders was progressing, and with rain falling it was expected that roads would be cleared of slush by night.

Snow began falling shortly after noon Friday and by early noon the fall was heavy. Snow continued to fall until around midnight when it turned to rain as the temperature went up.

Crews returning to the county garage reported the heaviest snowfall in the Bushnellville area where nearly a foot was encountered. At Phoenicia the fall was reported as nine inches with from nine to 10 inches and in southern Ulster the fall was from five to six inches.

During the storm numerous vehicles skidded to the ditch and State Police report several calls of this nature although there were no serious accidents reported. A milk truck of the Turco Company, Highland Mills, went over the bank at Quarryville but the driver, James Driscoll of Highland Mills escaped injury.

Napanoch to Get Street Lighting

Wawarsing Town Board Signs Contract

The Town Board of the Town of Wawarsing has unanimously approved a contract with the Ellenville Electric Company to install a modern street lighting system for the village of Napanoch.

The action was taken as the result of a recent detailed survey of the present street lighting in Napanoch and including the entire lighting district which extends south along Route 209 to the village line at Ellenville.

In general, the installation when completed will increase the lighting intensity about 40 per cent with only a slight increase in cost to the district.

Supervisor William M. Keib, Jr., reported that the new fixtures when they become available, together with additional lights and larger units will lend greater safety for pedestrians and reduce traffic accidents.

As a result of this study, the new units will be located in the business section and at strategic points throughout the district.

Holstead of Winsted, Conn., pulling away from the curb near the Stuyvesant Hotel, had hooked its bumper with the right front fender of a Colonial cab driven by Norman W. Caunitz. The fender of the cab was damaged.

The Temperature

Highest temperature registered at the city engineer's office Friday was 30 degrees, which also was the low for last night. This morning it had advanced to 36 degrees. The barometer was reported to have shown a drop of 68 points, indicating a continuance of stormy conditions.

The feminine movieland reporters voted Ingrid Bergman and Frank Sinatra as "least cooperative," giving this rate to "The Voice" by a wide margin, the announcement said. Last year Greer Garson and Fred MacMurray were so designated.

Paris Attorneys Prepare Defense

Judge's Ire Is Aroused by Lawyer's Remark

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Attorneys for Alvin J. Paris, 28-year-old novelty firm officer accused of attempting to bribe two New York Giants football players, today were preparing their defense for the alleged "fixer" who will go to trial Tuesday despite his counsel's contention that he is being "railroaded."

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit set the trial date yesterday after a court clash in which Caesar B. F. Barra, defense attorney, aroused the judge's ire by saying "it seems to me my client is being railroaded" because of the early trial date.

"That remark is a reflection on me and I don't like it," Judge Streit said. "This is a very simple case," he added. "Did he offer a bribe or didn't he?"

The judge said the case would go to trial on Tuesday "unless the judge who decides your motions requires more time."

Barra had indicated he would institute two motions on Tuesday. It was expected Judge Streit would be on the bench when the motions are made instead of Judge Francis L. Valente, who originally accepted Paris' plea of innocent.

Assistant District Attorney George P. Monaghan charges that Paris attempted to bribe Merle Hapes and Frank Filchock, Giant baseball stars, prior to last Sunday's championship playoff game with the Chicago Bears, who won

Four Buildings Razed In Pennsylvania Fire

Kane, Pa., Dec. 21 (AP)—Four business buildings were destroyed early today in the most spectacular fire in years at this winter sports center known to many as the "icebox of Pennsylvania."

Fire Chief Patsy Marasco estimated damage at close to $100,000. Razored were the three-story O. T. Ten to 15 automobiles, 300 to 400 tires, and a quantity of rubber in Marasco's garage were also destroyed.

Fed by paint stored in the Petersen building and the rubber, the fire burned with great intensity, throwing off a brilliant flare visible for 20 miles.

Virtually the town's entire population of 7,000 got out of bed to watch the spectacle, easily seen from most sections of the community because the buildings were on a hill.

GRANGE NEWS

Pomona Grange Meeting
A large number of members attended the regular session of the Ulster County Pomona Grange held recently at the Highland Grange in Lloyd. Master Vernon Barndt presided.

The Grange has again lost several members by death since the September meeting: Carrie Schaff of Asbury Grange; Marie L. Ferguson of Lake Katrine and J. Harold Clarke of Milten Grange. Pomona Grange mourns the loss of these members.

William Hookey reported for the Grange Co-Operative Fire Insurance Co. and said quite a loss was sustained by Charles Saito when his barns burned recently. The finances of the company are in very good condition Mr. Hookey reported.

I. C. Barnes spoke on auto insurance and said that losses had run about double this year, due to more accidents and higher costs of repair.

Al Kurdt, Farm Bureau manager, told of the new Ulster County Board of Health, also the new laboratory on Prince street, Kingston, which is a branch of the New York State Veterinary College. It will serve this section to make diagnosis and suggestions for treating ailing poultry, and methods for cleaning up and controlling mastitis in cattle. Mr. Kurdt also said the Farm Bureau would send all Grange secretaries notices of county-wide meetings and he would be glad to discuss any farm problems at grange meetings.

Ed Bowe r, Ulster county 4-H club work and what the boys and girls learn. There are 909 boys and girls enrolled in Ulster county and $1,765 has been received by them as prize money from the Ulster county fair and field day.

He also said a lady assistant 4-H leader will be in the county soon to work with the girls in the Homemaking Department.

On Pomona service and hospitality committee for 1947 are the following: Lillian Harcourt, chairman; Jennie Gazley, and Vida

Sutton, Rita Edmunds, the 1946 Worthy Master Barnhart; Robert chairman, sent in her report for W. Webb, Marian P. and Edward M. Wood of Milton Grange, Esther ordinaire chairmen for their co-operation. Huguenot Grange received first prize for its work for the year with a score of 97½ per cent and Highland Grange received second prize with a score of 84½ per cent. The county committee donated $100.05, which was received through the "Traveling Towels" to Harold Stanley, for the revolving scholarship fund.

Worthy Deputy Harold Story said he was glad to see so many present. He spoke of the anniversaries celebrated by Rosendale and Patroon Granges since September, and the fair held recently by Ulster Grange when over $500 was cleared for their building fund.

The following Fourth Degree members were elected as members of Pomona and were obligated in the Fifth Degree by Addie Graham, the juvenile deputy of Ulster county said a new Juvenile Grange had been organized in Stone Ridge with 32 charter members. The children were very much impressed by the beautiful installation ceremonies of their officers.

Judge John M. Cashin of Kingston spoke on juvenile delinquency and said organizations like the Grange and 4-H Clubs did much to train children in the right way of living, but stressed more parental care and respect to elders.

Two main reasons for juvenile delinquency are lack of religious training and real home environment. He said all proceedings in the juvenile court are confidential and children are always placed in religious foster homes according to their faith.

Lecturer Myron Ronk continued the lecturer's program with a song by the Grangers "I'm a Granger."

Fight Is Averted In Final Quarter; Weaver Tallies 21

Kiasmen Get Range in Final Two Periods to Chalk Up Second Win; N.F.A. Rout Port, 81-49

Coming to life after a slow first half start, Kingston High School's varsity basketball team registered its second straight victory of the 1946-47 season Friday night at the municipal auditorium by downing Monticello 49 to 36 in a game which was marked by the eviction of one player and threat of a fight.

With tempers at a breaking point for the most of the DUSO League game, they finally snapped with only about four minutes left on the clock in the final quarter when Referee Bill Lewis of West Point evicted Ken Lowe, Kingston's forward, from the game on a charge of starting a fight.

Coach Elias Protests

G. Warren Kias, local coach, protested Lewis' action but the ruling still stood and Lowe took his seat on the Maroon bench. Meanwhile, Ken Somerville, coach of the Monticello team, drew Lewis' attention to the fact that Kias had stepped out onto the court and his arguments brought forth a loud round of boos from the crowd.

One group of K.H.S. students, meanwhile, lined up near the point of the play in defiance and it was only through Coach Elias' urging that they returned to their seats.

Players Are Paired

After play was resumed another mix-up was averted when Tommy McGrane, sub forward and Bob Lansky, Monticello guard, started throwing punches but the two were separated.

Newburgh Wins Game

Newburgh scored its first league victory of the season last night by routing Port Jervis, 81 to 49 in the other loop contest. The scheduled Liberty-Middletown clash was postponed until tonight due to poor traveling conditions.

Weaver Scores 21

Big Ed Weaver, Kingston's center, was the big gun again for the locals as he tallied 21 more points to give him a total of 41 for the two games to date. Bert Halpin and Morty Kaplan of Monticello tossed in 14 and 13 respectively.

Kingston rolled up its second straight loop victory last night after a slow start. Fighting desperately to hold back the stubborn mountaineer quintet, the Kiasmen played hard ball in the first two periods but came to life in the final half and were never headed after that.

The Maroon took a slim 10-9 lead in the first period. Monticello enjoyed its second and final lead when Morty Kaplan put one in at the start of the midway canto giving Monticello an 11-10 margin.

Breaking fast right at the start, the Maroons showed under Monticello as Mike Rienzo, Ken Lowe rifled in shots in the third period. With less than four minutes to go Kingston had a 29 to 16 lead.

Bert Halpin, taking shot after shot, with little success, finally clicked in the third session when he ripped in for two straight baskets but Kingston still held on and finished the quartet with a 34 to 24 margin.

Baskets by Rienzo, Weaver and three by Harry Koch, sparked Kingston's drive in the fourth quarter. Held scoreless in the first half, Koch fired in three set shots from in front which broke the netting perfectly.

Sideline Jettings

The jaycee game slated for 7 o'clock was canceled due to the late arrival of Monticello. The main tilt got underway at 8:30 o'clock. Mort Kaplan, veteran Monticello ace, complimented Weaver after the game, "He's just too good." Kaplan remarked. Big Ed proved that point again last

Would Stop Prosecution
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 21 (AP) — Margaret Farley, pretty former New York model, no longer wants to prosecute her dude cowboy ex-husband, Reid King Wickware, on charges of shooting her last July. County Attorney Edwin Beauchamp said today. In a letter which Beauchamp acknowledged he had received, the 31-year-old woman wrote she now believes Wickware did not intend to kill her during an argument and that she no longer fears him. Bullet wounds left her partially crippled.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Santa on Strike
Los Angeles, Dec. 21 (AP) — Bundle-laden Christmas shoppers paused for a second look when they saw a Santa Claus marching back and forth in front of a department store.

As he paraded, the Santa passed out candy kisses to children from a bag slung over his shoulder, and on the bag was a sign reading: "This store is unfair!" He was a picker.

Wild West
Los Angeles, Dec. 21 (AP) — Right in the heart of perhaps this city's Wealthiest suburb — Belair — a pair of mountain lions stalked and killed two deer that had wandered down from nearby still-wild hills, police reported. They formed a posse, equipped with dogs, to track down the killers.

Sweet Co-Eds Sour
Grand Forks, N. D., Dec. 21 (AP) — The girls at the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority House are drinking their coffee straight for awhile.

Two houseboys, William Weight and Phillip Dahl, set out to spread salt on the icy sidewalks in front of the Sorority.

They had 22 pounds well distributed before they discovered it was sugar.

Added Power for Qavam

Tehran, Dec 20 (Delayed) (AP)—Occupation by the Iranian Army of the rebellious province of Azerbaijan on the Russian border has brought new strength to Premier Ahmed Qavam and has placed his new "Democrat Party of Iran" in a dominant position for parliamentary elections scheduled to begin Sunday. Now that the Azerbaijan insurgent leaders have been ousted from the provincial government, many of them fleeing across the Russian border, the leftist Tudeh Party is the only serious opposition facing Qavam.

And Tidal Wave

disaster by the Home, Welfare and Agriculture Ministries.

Area is Flooded

Three P-51 Mustangs of the Fifth U. S. Air Force flew over Wakayama peninsula and reported the west coast between Kanabe and Kushimoto largely was inundated. Pilots said the town of Shingu on the east coast was one third destroyed by fire and flames still could be observed in the afternoon.

Kyodo said all of the Japanese mainland except the northeastern coast of Honshu and Hokkaido felt the shock. Reports indicated communications could not be restored for two days.

The central meteorological observatory said the epicenter was in the ocean floor about 100 kilometers (62 miles) south of Wakayama. One observer official said the quake might be the greatest ever recorded in the world. He placed the center at 135 east longitude, 33 north latitude.

Cities Origin of Quake

Prof. Sonrel Hagiwara of the earthquake research station of Imperial University said he believed the quake originated on the outer Pacific earthquake fault line, running from New Zealand northward through the Solomons and along the north and south American coasts. Activity in this area is greatest quakes—the 1933 tremor in the Tokyo district and the 1934 quake in the Shizuoka area.

Hagiwara said Japanese are watching for possible additional shocks along this fault line.

Japan was hit by a similar quake, affecting the same areas, in 1854.

Snow Is Not Taken

From Main Streets

early Friday afternoon men and trucks were sent out and kept busy sanding hills and intersections. Later, he said, as the snow got too deep for sanding, the snow plows were sent out and the main roads leading into the city—Huron Avenue, the By-Pass, Abeel Street, etc., were plowed.

Normally, it was stated, streets are not plowed until snow reaches a depth of five inches and it is not planned to plow the main streets of the city, on the theory that if the snow is piled along these streets and in the gutters conditions would be worse than they are, while forecasts are for continued rain today and Sunday, with no drop in temperature.
